Letter of Recommendation for Paul Craft

To whom it may concern,

Silkwood School has forged a strong partnership with Paul Craft and Burragun Aboriginal Cultural Services over many years.

The diversity of cultural services and workshops Burragun provide are excellent for engaging students from Prep to Year 12 in deepening understanding of and connection to authentic Aboriginal ways of learning, knowing and being. The Burragun team are very adept at tailoring workshops and cultural experiences to suit individual and group needs, reflecting the Australian Curriculum cross-curriculum priority of embedding Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander perspectives.

Students love working with 'Uncle Boomerang' and respond well to the passion, enthusiasm and energy brought to every session he runs. Learning is always exciting, fun and interactive for participants, with reflective and cultural elements respectfully woven in.

The team at Burragun are professional operators who communicate efficiently and are punctual for every engagement. For high quality Indigenous cultural engagement and service provision at an affordable cost for schools, Burragun Cultural Services come highly recommended.
